Professional Certificate in Sexuality Education – 4th Intake! 🎓

Thurs 5 Mar - 10 Sept 2026 | 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. SGT | via Zoom

Program Structure:

Session 1: Introduction to Sexology & Asian Cultural Context (Thurs 5 Mar 2026) 🌐

This week covers the history and evolution of sexology, foundational theories of human sexuality, and the critical role of sexologists in society. Students will gain a solid understanding of the field, with special emphasis on Asian cultural nuances and sensitivity to social norms and taboos.

Session 2: Human Sexual Anatomy and Physiology (Thurs 19 Mar 2026) 🦋

This week dives into the biological foundations of human sexuality, including detailed study of reproductive anatomy, physiological sexual response, and common variations in sexual function. Students will enhance their ability to discuss anatomy confidently and normalize body diversity for clients.

Session 3: Gender Identity, Expression, and Sexual Orientation (Thurs, 2 Apr 2026) 🌈

Students will explore the social and cultural aspects of gender identity, expression, and sexual orientation, including lived experiences of LGBTQ+ communities. The session will highlight the importance of inclusive language and help students develop nuanced understanding to support diverse clients effectively.

Session 4: Sexual Health and Wellness (Thurs, 16 Apr 2026) 🧘♀️

This session focuses on broadening the conception of sexual wellness beyond dysfunction to include pleasure, satisfaction, and whole-person wellness. Students will learn strategies to promote sexual health and pleasure enhancement techniques for themselves and their clients.

Session 5: Communication Skills in Sexology (Thurs 30 Apr 2026) 🗣️

Focusing on sexology-specific micro-skills, this week covers active listening, empathetic responses, managing silences, and nonverbal communication. Students will practice key communication techniques critical for building rapport and facilitating effective sexual health conversations.

Session 6: Consent, Boundaries, and Sexual Trauma (Thurs 14 May 2026) 🚫

Students will explore consent frameworks, boundary-setting, and ethical responses to sexual trauma, including exploitation and abuse. Emphasis is on recognizing trauma disclosures and responding with sensitivity, applying trauma-informed practices in sexology contexts.

Session 7: Sexual Fantasies and Introduction to Kink (Thurs 28 May 2026) 💬

This week normalizes the exploration of sexual fantasies and introduces foundational kink concepts. Students will reflect on personal biases, learn how to create nonjudgmental spaces, and discuss client-centered approaches to fantasy and kink exploration.

Break Week — No Class or Triad (Week of 8 Jun 2026) ●

Session 8: Advanced Kink Topics and Consent in Kink (Thurs 18 June 2026) 🔥

Building on the previous week, this session delves into advanced kink frameworks such as RACK (Risk-Aware Consensual Kink) and SSC (Safe, Sane, Consensual), focusing on the complexities of consent, negotiation, and safety practices essential to ethical kink work.

Session 9: Comprehensive Sexual Health: STIs, Contraception, and Informed Choices (Thurs 2 Jul 2026) 🩺

This week covers clinical and psychoeducational aspects of sexually transmitted infections (STIs) and contraception. Students learn evidence-based prevention, diagnosis, and treatment, while also addressing stigma and emotional challenges clients may face.

Session 10: Infertility, Assisted Reproductive Technologies, and Sexual Identity Development (Thurs 16 Jul 2026) 🧑🏻

Students explore the emotional and physical impacts of infertility and assisted reproductive technologies. This session also examines how sexual identity can evolve through reproductive challenges, enhancing empathy and inclusive practice.

Session 11: Sexuality, Aging, Disability, Non-Monogamy & Alternative Relationships (Thurs 30 Jul 2026) 🧓❤️

This comprehensive session discusses sexuality across the lifespan with a focus on aging and disability inclusivity. It also explores non-monogamous and alternative relationship structures, providing ethical and practical guidance for diverse relationship frameworks.

Session 12: Couples Therapy and Sex Therapy (Thurs 13 Aug 2026) 🧑🏻🧑🏻

Students will learn core principles and techniques of couples therapy and sex therapy, including assessment methods, treatment planning, and intervention strategies to address intimacy, communication, and sexual difficulties in couple dynamics.

Session 13: Ethics and Professionalism (Thurs 27 Aug 2026) ⚖️

This session addresses the ethical frameworks governing sexology practice, including confidentiality, cultural competence, professional boundaries, and the responsibilities of a sexologist in diverse clinical and community settings.

Session 14: Integration, Case Studies, Peer Teaching, and Wrap-Up (Thurs 10 Sept 2026) 🎓

The final session is dedicated to integrating learning through detailed case study discussions, peer teaching exercises, and reflective practice to build student confidence and readiness for professional application.
